

RDC Scam & Financial Exploitation Safety Plan

A practical family worksheet for spotting changes, slowing down suspicious requests, and deciding who should be contacted.

If there is immediate danger, theft in progress, threats, or a medical emergency, call 911. Suspected abuse, neglect, or exploitation of a vulnerable adult may also warrant a report to Utah Adult Protective Services.

1 | RED FLAGS TO NOTICE

Check	Item	Notes / status
☐	Urgent demand to pay immediately or keep the request secret
☐	Gift cards, wire transfers, cryptocurrency, cash pickup, or unusual payment methods
☐	Caller claims to be government, police, court, utility, bank, tech support, or family in trouble
☐	Romance / friendship contact asks for money
☐	Sweepstakes, prize, inheritance, refund, or investment requires payment first
☐	New person is unusually interested in money, accounts, property, or changing documents
☐	Unexplained withdrawals, checks, transfers, new cards, or new authorized users
☐	Bills go unpaid even though money should be available
☐	Older adult seems afraid of someone, pressured, coached, or unable to explain transactions
☐	Passwords, PINs, verification codes, remote-computer access, or account credentials were shared

2 | STOP - VERIFY - DOCUMENT

Check	Item	Notes / status
☐	Stop the transaction or conversation if possible.
☐	Do not use the phone number or link provided by the suspicious contact.
☐	Verify independently using a statement, official card, known contact, or official website.
☐	Write down what happened: date, time, phone/email, payment method, amount, names used, and what was requested.
☐	Save texts, emails, receipts, screenshots, voicemails, envelopes, or transaction details.
☐	Contact the bank/card provider quickly if money or account access may be involved.
☐	Change compromised passwords and enable stronger account security where appropriate.

3 | INCIDENT RECORD

Date / time
How contact was made
Name / organization claimed
Phone / email / website used
What they asked for
Amount / payment method
Was money sent?
Was account or password information shared?
Evidence saved where?

4 | WHO SHOULD WE CONTACT?

Check	Item	Notes / status
☐	Bank / credit union / card issuer
☐	Local law enforcement if theft, threats, or criminal activity may be involved
☐	Utah Adult Protective Services if a vulnerable adult may be exploited, abused, or neglected
☐	Federal Trade Commission / ReportFraud for consumer scams
☐	Credit bureaus / identity-theft resources if identity information was compromised
☐	Attorney or other qualified professional if legal documents, property, or authority were improperly changed

5 | PREVENTION PLAN

Check	Item	Notes / status
☐	A trusted person reviews accounts or statements at an agreed interval.
☐	Alerts are enabled for large transactions or unusual account activity where available.
☐	Mail is collected and reviewed consistently.
☐	Unknown callers are not given personal or financial information.
☐	Family has a rule: no urgent money transfer without calling a trusted person first.
☐	Passwords are unique and stored securely.
☐	Two-factor authentication is enabled where appropriate.
☐	A plan exists for who helps if money management becomes harder.

Do not confront a suspected exploiter if doing so could increase danger. Preserve evidence and use the appropriate authorities or professional support.
