

Red Desert Check-In LLC

PRIVACY POLICY

Effective date: August 7, 2026

This Privacy Policy explains how Red Desert Check-In collects, uses, stores, and shares information in connection with its website, service requests, consultations, and client services.

1. Information We Collect

We may collect information that you voluntarily provide through our website, intake or request forms, consultation scheduling, customer agreements, payment process, visit-detail forms, email, text, phone, or other direct communications.

- Your name, email address, phone number, and general location.
- Information about the person, property, pet, or situation for which services are requested.
- Requested service type, preferred dates or timing, and information needed to determine whether a request is within our scope.
- After a request is accepted, the exact service address, access instructions, gate or lockbox information, authorized contacts, pet information, visit instructions, and other operational details needed to perform the agreed service.
- Information contained in communications, customer agreements, feedback, or service records.
- Payment-related information processed through our payment provider. Red Desert Check-In generally does not need to store full payment-card numbers.

2. Information About Other People

A client may request services for another person, such as a family member. If you provide information about another person, you represent that you are authorized to provide the information reasonably necessary to request and coordinate the service. Please do not submit information that is not necessary for Red Desert Check-In to evaluate or perform the requested service.

3. How We Use Information

We may use collected information to:

- Review requests and determine whether Red Desert Check-In is an appropriate fit.
- Communicate about consultations, quotes, scheduling, agreements, payments, access, and visits.
- Perform agreed services and provide written updates or authorized photos.
- Maintain service records, respond to questions, and manage recurring client relationships.
- Protect the safety of clients, service recipients, properties, and Red Desert Check-In.
- Comply with applicable legal, tax, insurance, accounting, or regulatory obligations.
- Improve our services and website.

4. Sensitive Access Information

Exact addresses, entry instructions, door or gate codes, lockbox information, alarm instructions, and similar access information should be provided only after a request has been accepted and only when needed to perform the agreed service. We use such information for service coordination and access. Clients should notify us when access information changes or should no longer be retained.

5. Photos and Visit Updates

When appropriate and authorized, Red Desert Check-In may take photos in connection with a visit and provide them to the authorized client or contact. We do not use identifiable client, service-recipient, home-interior, or private-property photos for marketing without separate permission.

6. Service Providers and Third-Party Platforms

We may use third-party service providers to operate portions of the business, including form collection, scheduling, website hosting, email, payment processing, electronic agreements, and similar business functions. These providers may process information according to their own privacy policies and terms. Current tools may include Tally for intake forms and Koalendar for consultation scheduling. Payment and agreement providers may change as our business systems evolve.

7. When We May Share Information

We do not sell personal information. We may share information when reasonably necessary with service providers acting on our behalf; with a person you authorize; when required by law, court order, or legal process; or when reasonably necessary to protect safety, rights, property, or prevent fraud or misuse.

8. Data Retention and Security

We retain information for as long as reasonably necessary for the purposes described in this policy, including providing services, maintaining business and tax records, resolving disputes, and meeting legal or insurance obligations. No method of electronic storage or transmission is completely secure. We use reasonable administrative and practical safeguards but cannot guarantee absolute security.

9. Your Choices

You may contact us to request correction or deletion of information you previously provided, subject to records we reasonably need to retain for legal, accounting, insurance, safety, contractual, or legitimate business purposes. You may also ask us to update contact or access information.

10. Medical and Emergency Information

Red Desert Check-In is a non-medical service and is not a healthcare provider, home health agency, or emergency response service. Please do not use our website or forms to seek emergency assistance. Call 911 for an emergency. Please provide only the health- or safety-related information reasonably necessary for us to understand the requested non-medical service and safely perform an agreed visit.

11. Children's Information

Our website and intake process are intended for adults arranging services. We do not knowingly solicit personal information directly from children through the website. An adult arranging an authorized service involving a minor may provide information reasonably necessary to evaluate and perform that service.

12. Changes to This Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy as our services, tools, or legal obligations change. The effective date at the top of the policy will indicate the current version.

13. Contact

For privacy questions or requests, contact Red Desert Check-In LLC at reddesertcheckin@gmail.com.

Important: This document is a business-policy draft intended to describe Red Desert Check-In's current practices. It is not legal advice and should be reviewed by a qualified Utah attorney, especially before relying on liability, waiver, privacy, or dispute provisions.